

For Immediate Release
September 27, 2021

For More Information Contact:
Marty Smith, SVP Senior Lender
Msmith@fnbh.com

First National Bank Adds Senior Vice President Commercial Loan Manager

First National Bank, the only bank headquartered in Livingston County, is excited to announce the addition of Matt Nelson as Senior Vice President Commercial Loan Manager.

First National's President/CEO Ron Long welcomed Matt stating, "First National welcomes Matt Nelson as Senior Vice President Commercial Loan Manager. His proven experience and performance will add to our already tenured team and bring our customers even greater experience, wisdom and expertise to their banking relationship with us. I am personally excited and enthused to welcome Matt to First National."

Fellow SVP and Senior Lender Marty Smith stated, "Matt brings a wealth of experience and market knowledge to First National. We are fortunate to add someone of his caliber to provide leadership toward the bank's expansion into the greater metro Detroit market, focusing on commercial and industrial customers."

Commenting on joining First National, new SVP Commercial Loan Manager Matt Nelson said, "The opportunity to join a storied community bank like First National is exciting. I am especially excited about bring my commercial banking skillset and focus on portfolio management, client acquisition and service along with team building to the First National team. I am further enthused about the opportunity help First National extend their reach in the metro region."

Matt Nelson

Matt comes to First National after a decade at TCF/Chemical/Talmer Bank and the previous decade with Citizens Bank. Nearly his entire career has been devoted to banking and a focus on commercial client relationship management. When not helping clients with their banking needs, Matt enjoys playing golf, exercise and is involved in his church and their parish council. He and his wife make their home in the Dearborn area and they have four adult children. He is a proud MSU alum.

First National Bank, a key community leader in greater Livingston County for more than 130 years, is focused on providing practical financial services to families and businesses. With a commitment toward knowledgeable, personalized service, First National serves customers through 8 conveniently located Livingston County offices and online at FNBH.com. As the only bank headquartered in Livingston County, First National takes great pride in its corporate citizenship and is known and respected for their support of causes and events that add to the quality of life across Livingston County. See First National's whole story at fnbh.com.

###